ROME REGIONAL FINE ARTS EXHIBIT

Annual Exhibit/Competition

Galleries One & Two Exhibition

The Rome Regional Exhibition, hosted and sponsored by Rome Art And Community Center, is one of the finest art competitions in Central New York. For 2010 nearly 120 works were entered and judge Mary Murray, Contemporary Art Curator of Munson Williams Proctor Arts Institute, selected just 57 pieces for exhibition.

Pieces were selected based on artistic merit, proper handling of the medium of choice, composition, and the judge's personal preference. Each year RACC selects a new judge to assure the selection process is fair and unique.

Participating artists must be 18 years or older and reside within 100 miles of Rome, New York. All work must be original, completed within the last three years, and not previously shown at any Rome Art And Community Center Regional Exhibition.

ELISABETH STEVENS

Library Exhibition

Created "on the spot" in cafes, circuses, coal mines, homes, industrial and rural settings and far-flung places, Stevens has produced a large number of energetic, boldly delineated ink drawings in which black line dominates and defines both mood and substance. She also creates small etchings that illustrate her books and very large independent etchings of realistically rendered but entirely imaginative scenes. Her linocuts and silverpoint drawings (not illustrated) echo similar ideas and may include the artist's poems or prose.
